

HIGH COURT TO HEAR MOVIE TRUST CASE

Supreme Tribunal Agrees to Review Action Involving Motion Picture Patents Co.

The Supreme Court today agreed to review a decision of the second circuit court of appeals, which broke the "tying clause" on the sale of movie machines patented by the Motion Picture Patents Company.

The lower court held the company could not specify, as the "tying clause" did, the film which was used in the machine. To uphold the clause, the lower court said, would grant an "absolute monopoly" to the "trust."

The court refused to review a California decision which held suit could not be brought in equity to oust the Southern Pacific railroad from water front property in Sacramento.

The lower court held that as the railroad had held the land for over fifty years, suit to oust them—brought by owners headed by the Benis Brown Company—was not in order.

The court dismissed an appeal by Mary H. Brown against New York City from a State court decision throwing out her $145,000 suit for damages to her Brooklyn water front property condemned during the Bay Ridge parkway project.

In effect the Supreme Court refusal upheld the State court contention that New York City may suspend court condemnation proceedings, hold up the disposal of land, and bring it up at its own convenience.

Jury Finds Death Due To Automobile Injury

A coroner's jury today found that William Vinton, of 478 N street southwest, came to his death at Emergency Hospital on October 28 from pneumonia and exhaustion induced by a blow on the head received when he was knocked down by an automobile on October 14. The verdict stated that the driver of said automobile is at present unknown to the jury.

Vinton was taken to the hospital in a private automobile.

ARREDONDO DOESN'T EXPLAIN TO LANSING

Carranza Ambassador Fails to Visit State Department in Cabrera Matter.

The friction between the United States and the Mexican de facto government arising from the sensational statement attributed to Luis Cabrera, president of the Mexican mediation commission, continued today.

Ambassador-designate Arredondo did not officially repudiate the Cabrera statement, as it had been announced he would do.

From all appearances the issue created by the unbridled criticism of the American government's Mexican policy remained as acute today as after the publication yesterday of the Cabrera statement, which was given out at the Mexican embassy by the Mexican news bureau.

At the Mexican embassy it was stated that Mr. Arredondo is sick and probably would not call at the State Department today.

Secretary of State Lansing said the Cabrera statement had not been repudiated and that he had received no communication on the subject from the Mexican ambassador.

Further Complications.

The critical situation, forecasting the disruption of the Mexican mediation conference, was further complicated by publication today of a magazine article quoting President Carranza, Alvaro Obregón, his secretary of war, Candido Aguilar, his secretary of foreign relations, and Gen. Pablo Gonzales, his military commander at Mexico City, in drastic denunciation of the American government's Mexican policy.

It was considered more than a coincidence that Carranza and practically his entire cabinet simultaneously should level broadsides at the Administration.

At the State Department today it was intimated the situation would remain in statu quo until an official explanation had been received from Ambassador-designate Arredondo.

Discussed Situation.

Cabrera and Ambassador Arredondo discussed by telephone yesterday the statement credited to the former. Arredondo then announced that a mild criticism of the United States government's failure to prevent ammunition reaching Villa, expressed by Cabrera in conversation with an employee of the "Mexican News Bureau," had been made the basis of the violent charges embodied in the bureau's statement.

The employee in question was George P. Edmonds. The head of the bureau, George F. Weeks, yesterday wired Cabrera disclaiming responsibility for the action.

Exchange Messages.

As for the magazine article, soon to be published, the embassy and the Carranza government, with advance information of the article's contents, have exchanged messages on the subject and the ambassador has been authorized to repudiate the interviews in advance.

"The public should be warned," said Arredondo, "that many false statements have appeared and will continue to be published by enemies of the de facto government, whose purpose is to bring about intervention in Mexico and armed conflict between the United States and Mexico."

ANACOSTIA.

Special social service day at Emmanuel Church brought out large attendance at morning and evening services.

At the morning service John S. Bennett, superintendent of Central Union Mission, told of the work being done there.

Immediately after the service a movement was started to raise funds to equip a room at this mission. Last night the Rev. D. Covell preached on "Social Service."

The Southern football team, of Southwest Washington, defeated the Highland team yesterday afternoon on the local field.

Next Sunday the Highlands will play the Mohawks.

The B. P. U. of Anacostia Baptist Church met last night. Plans were outlined for the winter months. It was decided to make an effort to increase membership.

An effort is being made to have election returns displayed here Tuesday night.

FIFTY GIRLS TO SELL TAGS ON WEDNESDAY

Plans for Holy Name Day Nursery Benefit Are Completed by Workers.

Fifty young girls will sell tags on the streets of Washington for the benefit of the Holy Name Nursery Wednesday. The youthful "taggers" will be stationed at all the Government departments and in stores in order that every one may be given an opportunity to contribute to the support of the institution.

Plans for tag day were completed yesterday afternoon at Carroll Hall, where interested workers in behalf of the institution gathered to allot certain portions of the city to the various salesgirls. Andrew L. Hickey, chairman of the committee in charge, presided.

The Holy Name Day Nursery is a non-sectarian institution, conducted by the Ursuline Sisters. Recently the home at 515 third street northwest, was found to be inadequate to the needs of the nursery, and the property at 519 Fourth street northwest was purchased. It is to help pay for the new property that the tag day is being held.

He was taken to Casualty Hospital, where it was found that while he had broken no bones he was severely bruised and shaken up. He remained at the hospital.
